

Exciting Opportunity to Learn Valuable Skills!

Mountain Mediation Services is offering its three-day Mediation Training. The dates are November 8-10, 2017 in Webster, NC!

What is mediation?

Mediation helps resolve disagreements in your workplace, at home or in your neighborhood. Mediators are trained community volunteers. They meet with both parties to help identify the issues, explore possible solutions, and guide the parties toward workable solutions. Mediation solves conflict without the expense and stress of going to court.

What types of issues are mediated?

- Broken contracts
- Neighborhood vandalism
- Barking dogs
- Property disputes
- Fights or physical altercations
- School bullying and conflicts

Why should I sign up for this course?

This is a 21-hour training over three days that equips you with the tools needed to effectively deal with conflict and develop peaceful resolutions. You will learn new skills that will help you resolve conflicts you might have at work, in your neighborhood, or with family members. The cost for the course is $250. Upon completion, those who wish may volunteer and work toward Mediator Certification. Volunteers may also request a tuition refund in exchange for their service.

Can I volunteer as a Mediator?

Mediators work in teams and newer mediators are paired with more experienced ones. Mediation sessions take one to two hours. We work with your schedule; how many you do per week or month is up to you. You will find we are quite flexible.

Ok – You’ve convinced me. What do I have to do to get started?

Simply call 828-631-5252 or register online at www.mountainmediation.org. Space in our class is limited so make that call now! ☺

What is Mountain Mediation?

Mountain Mediation Services is a nonprofit organization serving the seven western counties and the Qualla Boundary of North Carolina. It is a member of the Mediation Network of NC.